

Song Contest

Amid the characteristic enthusiasm of the students, the twenty-fourth annual Song Contest was held December 11, 1943. Starting with the freshmen, each class in turn presented a group of three Christmas carols—the contest song, a selected carol, and a special number performed by a small ensemble with appropriate costumes and scenery effects.

The judge this year was Mr. Thorson, of the music department of Crookston Central High School. According to his decision, the Song Contest Trophy, donated by the Class of '39, was given to Marian Sargent, who was the leader of the victorious Seniors. The Advanced Class ranked second, the Freshmen, third, and the Juniors, fourth.

The Song Contest, held each year prior to the Christmas vacation period, has been an appropriate closing feature of the fall term and continues to be a much-remembered event by the many alumni and students of the Northwest School.

DIRECTORS AND ACCOMPANISTS

Advanced.....Angeline Quantock, Glen Magnusson (co-directors)
Seniors.....Marian Sargent, director; Louise Nelson, accompanist
Juniors.....Doris Krogstad, director; Delores Hamre, accompanist
Freshmen.....Evangeline Anderson, director; Evangeline Hallstrom, accompanist

