

Advanced Day

1. Crowning of the King and Queen of the Advanced Class of 1943.

At precisely 11:40 A. M. on Friday, March 12, 1943, the members of the Advanced Class—girls attired in dark skirts, white blouses, and blue sashes, boys wearing dark trousers, white shirts, and blue sashes like those of the girls—marched full force into Kiehle auditorium to share with the general student body a part of the celebrations of "their" day.

A clever program depicting the various activities of the class during its sojourn at the Northwest School was presented, with Robert Anderson presiding as Master of Ceremonies. The entire class then assembled on the stage to receive the Court of Honor—King Henry Hoff, Queen Grace Hagen, and their attendants, Garnet Balstad, Berneil Nelson, Mary Pastuck, Harold Aasland, Howard Anderson, and Carlton Knutson. After the "court" had been entertained by several talented members of the class, the class will was read, and King Henry Hoff presented the Key of Knowledge to Robert Phillips, President of the Junior Class.

Of course the Advanced Class enjoyed the usual special table service in the dining hall throughout the day. Immediately following the evening dinner, they adjourned to the Aggie Inn for the last class party of their high school career. As an unusual entertainment feature, the class attended the wrestling meet held in the gymnasium, after which they returned to the Aggie Inn for refreshments.
