

AGGIE

Standing—L. Lie, Mr. Reiersgord, adviser, J. Muzzy
Seated—M. Hasbargen, L. Floan, E. Hallstrom, E. Enge

Again it is time for another AGGIE to roll off the press. It is only natural that we give a little sigh of relief as we see the dummy, the sheets of typeset material and the pictures start on the way to Chicago. It has not been too easy in preparing this AGGIE for the press as we have had some of the same problems still shadowing us that confronted us during the war. We are glad that we have this annual to share with you. It is our hope that this AGGIE will give you pleasure this year and in the years to come, and we hope that it will serve as a means of bringing you back to the campus of pleasant memories even though miles stretch endlessly between you and the Northwest School.

Much of the success of the AGGIE is to be credited to the skillful direction of our class adviser, Miss Linde, who checked the articles for grammatical errors, of our context adviser, Miss Larsen, who planned the book and "hounded" the Aggie Board into doing typing, arranging advertisements, and pasting pictures, of our financial adviser, Mr. Reiersgord, who kept a watchful eye on the financial status of the senior class.

Editor	- - - - -	James Muzzy
ASSOCIATE EDITOR	- - - - -	Lillian Floan
BUSINESS, ADVERTISING	- - - - -	Evangeline Anderson, Franklin Zak
CLASSES and FACULTY	- - - - -	Gloria Brandli, Evangeline Hallstrom
ATHLETICS	- - - - -	Lydia Lie, Edward Nelson
ORGANIZATIONS	- - - - -	Phyllis Lerud, Floyd Kittelson
FEATURES	- - - - -	Elayne Enge, Mavis Hasbargen
FACULTY ADVISERS	- - - - -	Miss Linde, Mr. Nordvold
CONTEXT ADVISER	- - - - -	Miss Larsen
FINANCIAL ADVISER	- - - - -	Mr. Reiersgord

Left to right—Miss Larsen, adviser, J. Muzzy, L. Floan, E. Thayer, M. Hasbargen

