Livestock Judging

Because the selection of livestock will be very useful to them in future years, the boys out for judging find that they can put to good use the information learned in the Livestock Judging Class. The class meets twice a week under the able leadership of O. M. Kiser. The boys are preparing for the sub-collegiate livestock judging contest which is part of the Winter Shows.

The team this year consists of Kenneth Johnson, Donald Steinhauer, Arlan McFarland, Herbert Dahlstad, Reinholt Sorenson, Ludwig Donarski, and Owen Imsdahl. Out of these Mr. Kiser will choose three boys to judge at the Winter Shows and they will receive a gold "A" medal.
