

Variety Night

The greatest event put on by the students at the Northwest School is that of Variety Night. Everyone enjoys it to the utmost and looks forward to the program each year. This year it was held on Saturday, January 26, 1946. The following program was presented: "Memories"—Marlys Sargent, Elizabeth Lapp and Marjorie Ophus; "To the Count of Ten"—Melvin Capistran, Arnold Tinglestad and Jack Blom (third prize); "Rose Buds"—Beulah Stromstad, Avis Anderson; "Noise in Yellow"—JoAnne Quigley (third prize); "Agony Sisters"—Frances Klein, Ellen Johnson (second prize); "Don't Let This Happen to You"—Willis Wagner, Norman Torkelson (first prize); "Little Southern Touch"—Kenneth Miller (second prize); "Dreamers"—Doris Krogstad, Delores Hamre, Geneva Iverson, Ruth Norum and Phyllis Lerud (second prize); "Mock Marriage"—James Muzzy, Floyd Kittelson, Maurice Bergh, Rodney McGovern and Alden Peterson (first prize); "Corrine Jordan"—Delores Hamre (first prize).

Lillian Floan acted as announcer and Charles Whalen operated the spotlight.