

With four long years of study mixed with pleasure coming to a close the Advanced class enjoyed their day on March 20, 1946. They were all Scotch Highlanders with the girls dressed in white blouses and gay plaid skirts and sashes. The boys wore plaid skirts or dark trousers, white shirts and sashes. They all wore saucy Scotch hats with streamers in the back.

The assembly program presented that day was enjoyed by all. The whole program centered around the poem "Tam-O-Shanter", by Robert Burns. During the program a song, which was written by a former Northwest School student, was sung. There was also other singing and Scotch dancing. The class key was presented to Edward Nelson, the Senior class president, by Allan Nesland, the Advanced class president.

After a much enjoyed program, John Lapp, the master of ceremonies, crowned Gerhard Ross and Colleen Skeie as class king and queen. The attendants were Anna Mae Ecklund and Allan Nesland.

The dining room was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The festive day ended with a dance and party in the Aggie Inn.

Advanced Day