

JUN.-SENIOR Banquet & prom. 56

The members of the Senior class at the Northwest School were guests on Saturday evening, March 2, of the Junior class at the Junior-Senior banquet and prom. The central theme of the decorations at the banquet hall and gymnasium was the South Sea Islands. Named miniature islands of the South Pacific, made from colored stones and modeling clay, served as candle holders for each table. Multi-colored paper sailing craft served as place cards.

Freshman girls as waitresses and freshman boys as bus boys were adorned with highly colored leis. Miss Rose Marie Kochmann, a member of the Junior class, served as toastmistress at the banquet. Harvey Pulkrabek, president of the Junior class, gave the address of welcome, and Maurice Bergh gave the response for the Senior class. E. F. Bennett, a faculty adviser for the Junior class, discussed the Prom theme. A Junior girls' sextette, the Tahitian Maids, sang melodies characteristic of Hawaii and the South Sea Islands. The address of Superintendent T. M. McCall concluded the banquet program.

The prom was held in the gymnasium which was transformed into a clearing of a tropical forest bordered with fruit-laden coconut palms interspersed with green paper streamers. The tropical night effect was secured with a blue streamer canopy and blue dimmed lights.
