

Synopsis of Play :

The action of this play takes place in the Midwest on the campus of the Northwest School near Crookston.

Time: The present.

ACT ONE

Gorgeous fall colors . . . vivid sweaters . . . gay laughter echoes across the campus as the curtain rises to reveal a veritable bee-hive of activity.

SCENE 1.

The stage manager is tearing his hair in an attempt to get everyone on stage as his cue is given. In his modest way the stage manager refers to this difficult task merely as Registration.

SCENE 2.

Amid a maze of color and noise, the football team occupies the stage during scene two. Homecoming festivities provide additional entertainment.

ACT TWO

Snow laden trees . . . rosy cheeks . . . tingling toes . . . colorful scarfs and mitts typify this scene.

SCENE 1.

Basketball, swimming, and wrestling all combine in providing thrills and excitement.

SCENE 2.

Melodious Christmas carols herald the holiday season.

SCENE 3.

Organizations in action.

ACT THREE

Vanishing snow . . . muddy feet . . . promenading couples . . . cherished memories as the climax of the play approaches.

SCENE 1.

Seniors and advanced members of the cast featured as curtain rises.

SCENE 2.

The heart of the school, the class room, occupies the center of the stage.

SCENE 3.

In this play within a play, seniors appear in leading roles.

SCENE 4.

Swirling formals . . . moaning saxophones . . . dreamy atmosphere . . . dim lights provide the setting for this scene.

SCENE 5.

Commencement . . . Grand Finale.