

Pan Americana Revue of 1948

Staged December 3

"It's a Grand Night for Singing" but "Are You Having Any Fun"? How can you "Without a Song"?

"California, Here I Come" for "The Night is Young"—"Hallelujah"!!

We practice "Canadian Capers" in the "Red River Valley" because "I've Got a Girl in North and South Dakota" under the "Pale Moon" and "Blue Skies".

We dream to the nostalgic strains of "Rhapsody in Blue" and dance to "Alexander's Ragtime Band" as you "Wear a Tulip" and "We Go Strolling Through the Park".

Now "Let's Build a Stairway to the Stars" for "Laura", "Who" is "Dancing in the Dark", and is "Going to Take a Sentimental Journey" "Climbing Up the Mountain" by "The Swanee River" while "Joshua Fit de Battle ob Jericho" for the "Arkansas Traveler" "Along the Navajo Trail". Everyone is so happy at the outcome of the battle that they all sing "Chipanecas" while they "Begin the Beguine" and "Jealousie" becomes evident throughout the group.

Finally as "Day is Done" we turn our thoughts, to "Home" in that tremendously wonderful nation of ours. As a tribute to this magnificent land, the entire choir sings "The Battle Hymn of the Republic".
