

Topics for discussion: girls, girls, and girls.

Enjoying a certain degree of self government, the boys from Robertson Hall have their own Student Council to enforce the laws they make.

Each semester all the boys get together and choose three boys from each floor. These twelve members get together and elect officers. The rest of the members act as advisers. Officers during the first semester were DuWayne Wahlstrom and Lyle Kasprick. Second semester officers were Earle Peterson and George Huard.

One event staged in Robertson, the Hard Time Party, was long remembered by the boys, as well as the fortunate girls who had dates for the affair.

New Dorm preceptresses: Mrs. Oline Ness, Mrs. Rose Gackowski.

"1820-J please."

DORM HEADS

Robertson Hall preceptors:
Mr. William Sundberg, Mr. William Miller.

Since Mrs. Ness and Mrs. Gackowski need a little help in keeping the New Dormitory quiet and orderly during study hours, the girls have elected a House Committee to help them. Two girls are elected from each floor and may suggest warnings for girls needing them. They may suggest ways if improving the dormitory, receive suggestions from other girls, and plan parties.

The girls enjoy the use of two kitchenettes, one on second and one on third floor. Food prepared here is eagerly consumed by hungry gals.

Memories of happy, congenial hours spent in the dormitory are outstanding in the thoughts of the girls who have attended the Northwest School.