

Margaret Larsen

A firm believer in the merits of fresh air is Miss Margaret Larsen, who ventilates her students' minds by means of open windows and stimulating ideas. She never ceases to amaze her students with her encyclopedic knowledge of her subjects. Miss Larsen displays her good sense of humor in her English and history classes. Outside of class her major interest is creative writing.

Miss Thea Myren

Miss Thea Myren, with her pleasing personality, is well liked by her patients and students alike. She shares the Health Service work with Miss Finney, and also has the girls' health classes. As you can see, she is busy at the typewriter keeping all records up to date.

Miss Myren is an enthusiastic fan at athletic contests on the campus as she enjoys sports herself.

Sally Maher

Off and on from about 8:30 in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening, you can hear the singing keys of the pianos in Miss Sally Maher's studio. Besides teaching her piano students, she was immediately recruited as official pianist for advanced choir and glee clubs; she is also the "big wheel" of the boys' ensemble. When she isn't playing the piano, Miss Maher enjoys talking about the wonders of Montana.

Herschel H. Lysaker

If you know of a football or basketball team that captures all the trophies, it may be one of Mr. Herschel H. Lysaker's. His own energy, spirit, and enthusiasm are reflected in the teams he produces. Coach Lysaker is a prominent figure on the campus, and is a personal friend of everyone. He keeps these friendships alive by visiting the students during the summer in the role of Home Project Supervisor.
