... how to sharpen our minds

MARGARET LARSEN

BORGNU SKORPEN

In all our English classes, the emphasis is on practicality. Of course, we learn the essentials of grammar and a deeper interest in good reading. But in addition to all this, each teacher gives us an opportunity to put into practice what we have learned.

Mrs. Ittner, our freshman English teacher, directs assembly programs which give many freshmen a chance to express themselves.

In junior English under Miss Kjorlie's direction, we continue to appear in assembly programs, and find that our self-confidence is increasing.

We are prepared, then, in our senior year to present a three act play, directed by Mrs. Ittner.

Our senior English teacher, Miss Skorpen, gives us further skills in writing and speaking good English. As advanced students advised by Miss Skorpen, we put out the yearbook. In this year, also, Miss Larson teaches us British literature and is the adviser for our school paper. Miss Kjorlie teaches the required play production class, in which each advanced student learns how to give short speeches and act in one-act plays.
