

With graduation day come tears and smiles. For some of us it means the end of school days, for others college, but for all it means parting with friends. The diploma which we receive is a treasured item, not only for its value as a key to the future, but also because it brings each of us memories of our school work earning it. And now that we have reached the goal of graduation, other goals can be attained more easily.

Superintendent McCall congratulates Ronald Dahl.

our four years are over.

Graduating seniors and advanced exchanging best wishes and hurried farewells.