

Junior special number to the tune of "Jingle Bells"

Again this year in the weeks before Christmas, the annual interclass song contest occupied the efforts of students and class advisors alike.

The senior class, advised by Miss Sally Maher and directed by Yona Magnusson and Steffi Kirchert, walked off with the trophy.

Their winning songs were the contest carol, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear", "Angels from the Realms of Glory", and "Jesu Bambino", which was sung as their special number.

T. W. Thorson, head of the music department in the Crookston Public Schools, was critic judge.
