Adviser Skorpen, Co-editors Bergeson and Green, and Adviser Kjorlie have just found the picture that got away.

Who brings little Aggies? Why, the Aggie Staff, of course!

Jenelle Williams, Dorothy Didrikson, and Vilma Zak feverishly look for mistakes as Dora Ann Pelowski types.

Dear Readers:

Each year two publications are put out for your interest. This year we are the two people chosen to edit these publications.

The Rouser brings you the day-to-day happenings on campus in 12 issues while the Aggie staff sums up the year's activities in this annual.

Your appreciation and ours go to the staffs and our advisers who plan, work, and prod us into meeting the deadlines.

Working with the advisers, photographers, and students has been both a profitable and enjoyable experience. We hope that you find the Aggie to be all you had hoped for and a constant reminder of this year.

Editorially yours,
Bergeson and Green
