

Aggie Homecoming Queen and Royal Family

Crowned between halves of the football game, Marlys Eftefield appears at the Homecoming Dance with her attendants: Bernice Baird, Patricia Erickson, Darlene Larson, and Burnette Vesledahl.

On the eve of Homecoming our enormous brushpile was considerably dampened, but the fire of our enthusiasm more than compensated for the lack of any bonfire. On Saturday it was still raining, but everyone cheerfully agreed that it could be pouring. Playing Grand Rapids Saturday afternoon, the Aggies did a workmanlike job of plowing under their opponents and cultivating the respect of the many spectators at the game. When it was all over, our team had raised a presentable crop of touchdowns, whose market value was appraised at 40 to 0.

Queen Marlys