

Preceptors

Life in the New Dorm is capably held in check at all times by Mrs. Ness during the daytime and Mrs. Gackowski, commonly known as Mrs. "G", in the evenings. They make our life there as comfortable and well disciplined as possible.

Friendly Mrs. Edwards found a decided change upon returning to Selvig Hall this year. Girls had disappeared and in their place she found freshmen boys. However, she seems to have weathered the change and has helped to make their life as homelike as possible.

Stephen's Hall has three capable preceptors: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lysaker and Mrs. Alice Baker. It is the dormitory with the largest number of boys in residence but their smiling preceptors indicate that they aren't worrying too much about it.

The upper-classmen in Robertson Hall enjoy a certain amount of self-discipline despite the governing hands of Mr. Hullinger and Mr. Whiting.

Freshmen boys are introduced to dormitory life in Selvig Hall by Mr. Larson.
