

Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Lysaker

Our Preceptors

The preceptors at Stephens Hall, Mrs. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Lysaker, have an intuitive understanding of the ways of boys. They have said with parental wisdom, "We enjoy the boys in spite of their many tricks and pranks."

Phil Larson and Mrs. Erickson are working diligently and enthusiastically as preceptors in Selvig Hall. The boys not only have a "big brother" to look after their needs, but also Mrs. Erickson's maternal understanding.

The gracious manner in which the preceptors at the New Dorm preside has left an indelible impression on their girls. Mrs. Earle, Mrs. Larson, and Mrs. Gackowski have given their undivided attention to making life there as pleasant and homelike as possible.

The boys at Robertson Hall have the "freedom to choose." They are no longer subjected to the regimentation of "freedom from choice." Mr. Nystrom, Mr. Singlestad, and Mr. Whiting merely "guide" this choice.

Mrs. Erickson

Mr. Larson

Mrs. Larson, Mrs. Gackowski, and Mrs. Earle

Mr. Singlestad, Mr. Whiting, and Mr. Nystrom

