

Judging Teams

Three boys and an alternate comprise each judging team. These teams compete with the other station schools at the Red River Valley Winter Shows held in Crookston.

Potato Judging Team

Mr. Bruce Beresford was instrumental in organizing the Potato Judging Team at the Northwest School last year. Under his capable supervision the boys learned to recognize defects and injuries to the delicate potato tubers and to identify insects that attack the potato plant.

FIRST ROW: Glenn Weber, Duane Munter, Raymond Dunham, Jerry Orr, Robert Hoekstra, David Bjorge, Larry Molstad, Wesley Motschenbacher, Paul Suda. SECOND ROW: Mr. Beresford, Adviser, Loren Wiseth, John Welberg, Malcolm Salisbury, Marshal Guntzburger.

Crops Judging Team

The Crops Judging Team learns how to identify weed seeds, grass and legume seeds, plant diseases, and to judge various grain samples under the able direction of Dr. O. C. Soine.

FIRST ROW: Clinton Balstad, Robert Strandberg, Grant Johnson, Dale Hanson, Donald Taus, Diven Opheim. SECOND ROW: Dr. Soine, Adviser, Merlin Skretvedt, Harvey Halstensgaard, Gordon Syverson.

David Boman, Larry Freeland, Jerry Beck, David Eblen, Donald Enright, Alvin Bertsch, Richard Anderson, Loren Wiseth, Larry Eftefield, Arthur Grothmann, Keith Freeland, Larry Solberg, Neal Bjornson.

Livestock Judging Team

The Livestock Judging Team, under the direction of Mr. Rudolph Stolen, learn to select better livestock on the basis of type. The boys judge dairy and beef cattle, swine, and sheep. They must not only be able to place the animals in the class correctly, but also be able to give the reasons for doing so.

