Headwaters Club Forms a Student Council

Every year our school sends ten student delegates to a Leadership Camp sponsored by the University of Minnesota. This year the students came back with the desire to start a Student Council. Before beginning on the project they decided that a club should be formed for all of the students that had attended the Leadership Camp. The name of Headwaters was chosen because the camp is held at Itasca State Park where the Headwaters of the Mississippi is located.

The Headwaters Club this year has taken as its project the forming of a Student Council. A Constitutional committee was chosen which began working on the Constitution. At each meeting the Headwaters Club discussed parts of the Constitution and so now at the end of the school year we can boast of having a Student Council.

Only with the very fine assistance of our advisors, Mr. Budrow and Supt. Youngquist are we able to leave at the Northwest School two organizations that will better the ideals and students of this school.

A bit of advice from the Superintendent.
