They're smiling because they met the deadline.

Looking back, we recall . . . that day last fall when we had the first meeting of Aggie Board . . . when we tried to take pictures at a basketball game . . . when we couldn't make the camera work to take the swimming pictures . . . those long evenings when only a few came to Aggie Board.

Remember . . . when we couldn't meet the first deadline—and Mr. Field feared we wouldn't get the annual till next fall . . . when Mr. Youngquist got his Doctor's degree . . . and finally, that week in January when the last few pages were nearing completion . . . when we found out that we would get our Aggie on time . . . and now, we have our book; it was a lot of work, but I'm sure that everyone who helped with it will agree that it was worth the effort.

I would like to thank everyone who helped make the Aggie possible. Especially Mary Ruth, Bette, Gary Mattson, Norman, Vicki, and all those who worked extra hard.

In closing, all of us thank our advisor, Mr. Field, for his hard work and the long hours he spent up in Hill 204.
