With a fighting spirit, a lot of pep, and good height, the basketball team began their season. With approximately an equal amount of success and failure, the team came out of the season with more experience.

Basketball is considered a popular sport at the Northwest School. The attendance at the games was good and a marked improvement in school spirit was observed.

In December, the team went to Winnipeg where they played two exchange games with the Sissler High School team who had previously played two games here. This tradition serves as a good opportunity for friendly competition.
