

Camera Club

There are fifteen students active in the Camera Club this year at the Northwest School. Meetings are held weekly in the Hill Building, where a lecture room and a dark room are available along with the materials necessary for printing and enlarging pictures.

Members learn about different varieties of cameras and become efficient motion picture operators under the supervision of Mr. Beresford.

These students are learning how to operate these machines.

Livestock Judging

Each year, two livestock judging teams are formed with the purpose of teaching students how to judge dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep, and hogs. Later on during the year, these teams will enter into competition with other teams at the Red River Valley Winter Shows.

Students receive help in judging and preparing for the Winter Livestock Shows.
