Aggie Board

1962 'Aggie' Staff

To the uninitiated, getting an 88 page yearbook to press in about eight weeks may seem easy. But experienced staff members know that's not one too many days!

First there's planning, with reliance on those with originality for fresh picture ideas. Then there's the dummy pages and scores of layouts to be made. Following this is the scheduling of pictures and arrange a time for them to be taken. Finally the frantic rush is on to complete the multiples, themes, stories; label and type the material under the pictures, and make the final check for errors before the pages can be sent in to meet the final deadline, for publication.

Betty Swanson, Ernest Swift and Pat McKeever are learning about proofs.

Everyone thinks the layouts are going to be fun, but they soon will learn.
