

The piano training department under the direction of Mr. Donald Anderson; has had extensive training at the University of Minnesota, and at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

Piano Instruction

The piano course of study offers opportunity for thorough training in both beginning basics and advanced piano. Training in beginning, college prep., and the first two years of college level studies can be acquired. The full course is divided into 10 levels, or approximately 8 years of study.

Beginning students are guided into visual and auditory keyboard knowledge of all twelve major and minor tonalities. Ear training is particularly stressed.

Intermediate and advanced students are guided in five phases of studies.

1. Intermediate and advanced harmony through creative effort.
2. Technique, or skill development and basic music knowledge.
3. Intermediate and advanced repertory studies.
4. Intermediate and advanced sight reading training.
5. Review testing and relearning basic skills and understandings.

Mr. Anderson also offers beginning organ for the first time this year. This division of the department will be broadened as time, facilities, and preparation are extended.

Beverly Shelstad and Carol Fehr are the two girls who are taking organ lessons this year. Throughout the year they are given opportunities to play for different activities.

Chances are Carol and Gary enjoy practicing on the piano very much.
