

Reeds

Reed instruments are a very important part of the band. They are the instruments that play the many very delicate parts that the violin usually plays in the orchestra.

In this group one can see the clarinets, saxophones, and a new type of instrument that takes the place of the oboe.

Brass

There is nothing quite as exciting as the clear call of the trumpet or the mellow tones of the coronet. A good march would not be complete without the smear of the trombone.

Brass

The instrument that really has the beat is the bass drum.

Another symbol of the brass band is the large bass horn, the cymbals, horns, and snares.
