

Underclassmen

Many routes to travel

We as Americans have the responsibility of traveling in the paths of those who have forged the many roads before us. As underclassmen, we are just beginning to realize that these roads and routes are influenced greatly by our homes, schools, churches, and government.