

Dedication

A route to think about

We, the senior class of 1966, with the most humble and solemn gratitude, dedicate this yearbook to the ideal of democracy. Democracy has granted us countless opportunities to seek and achieve our individual goals.

When we gaze at the symbol of democracy, the flag, waving in the mellow breeze, a fragment of Thomas Jefferson's "Inaugural Address" comes to our minds--"Should we wander from these principles in moments of error or alarm? Let us hasten to retrace our steps, to regain the road which alone leads to peace, liberty, and safety."

As United States citizens we must have but one prevailing thought and desire. That is to impress upon one another the vitalness of democracy for the preservation of our free world.
