

Our Principal

Mr. Reiersgord has the difficult task of separating fact from fiction when reading excuses from the students. Despite hectic days and busy nights, he always manages a warm smile and friendly hello when you meet him in the hall or step into his office. The students have come to know Mr. Reiersgord as one to depend on for his viewpoint and earnest desire to help each of us with our individual problems.

One of his additional duties is teaching German. In this class students are required to translate sentences, read stories, and memorize German poetry. This class provides students with a good background for college German.

MR. E. N. REIERSGORD, Crookston, Minnesota; B. A., Concordia College, Moorhead, Minnesota; M. A., Administration, University of North Dakota; German, Class Advisor.
