

Aggie Board

Getting the "Aggie" ready for publication in two months is really quite a chore and sacrifice to staff members who must relinquish many study periods as well as free time. However, with the help of Mr. Heckman, our advisor, the deadline for publication is met.

Near the end of March, everyone is filled with enthusiasm as the date for the arrival of the new yearbook approaches. Finally the anticipated day arrives and the yearbooks are previewed by the advisor and editors before they are officially presented to the student body at the annual presentation ceremony during an assembly period.
