

The first student to register for the fall quarter was Dacian Bienek.

At the barbecue, students had an opportunity to visit with their new instructors.

Students take a lunch break between their busy activities.

Students get acquainted with Crookston business men, students from Corbett College and St. Francis and Bethesda School's of nursing.

Welcome Week

Welcome week involved the students in a variety of experiences. The three-day program included tours of the campus, organizational meetings, convocations, student-faculty talent show, a picnic, and a "College Mixer." The hours were also filled with teacher-student conferences on counseling concerning schedules, and vocational and extra-curricular interests.
