

With Mixed Feeling

Being #1 has been a rough assignment. The sophomores, though honored as the first graduating class of Minnesota Tech, have had to help establish policy, tradition, and activities, and to maintain an image for future classes to emulate. The fall of 1966 found 187 students officially registered and learning to adjust to the new college atmosphere, new for them and for the community and administration. That first faculty was small, only 26, a number that has doubled this year. Now that the class of 1968 has been graduated, they are leaving a goodly heritage and a big future to #2, and all others who follow.

James A. Bierschbach
Business
Melrose

Neil C. Blume
Agriculture
Herman

Brian M. Bohnsack
Business
Hillsboro, N. D.

Deborah K. Bolstad
Business
Minneapolis

Clifford N. Branham
Agriculture
Park Rapids

John J. Brouillard
Business
Crookston

Jerome A. Bunkowske
Agriculture
Vergas

David E. Busby
Agriculture
Hitterdahl

Harold H. Christen
Business
Fosston

Thomas M. Conway
Business
Argyle

Myron Cordes
Agriculture
Crookston

