

Robert Morrissey did a delightful impersonation of another Robert, Robert Benchley.

Jacqueline Brooks and James Cahill were a hit with students and townspeople in "Dear Liar."

In an impressive ceremony in March, David Bohnsack passed the Northwest School torch to Ron Tobkin, representative for the Tech senate.

Convocations —

Art, drama, music, and speeches were all included in the fare provided by the concerts and convocations committee this year. There was a traveling exhibit of Minnesota painters displayed in the library. An outstanding pair of stage personalities presented a play based on the letters of GBS to Mrs. Campbell. Speakers from the field of business and agriculture gave talks.

Campus groups conducted panel discussions, sang, and held political rallies. Conrad Kvamme showed slides of his trip to the South Seas. Variety spiced the year's entertainment.
