

They Copped Cups

Intramural battles waged throughout the year as teams with such weird monikers as Dildoes, Rum Ducks, and Mojoes slugged it out for the championships in touch football, volleyball, basketball, and softball. Coach Engelman directed the program. The Vets walked away with two trophies, the faculty with one, and an energetic group who called themselves the Odd Squad with one. Participation was good and competition, fervent.

These are the Vets who took the touch football championship: Adviser Hoff, Koury, Sandahl, Bemis, Johnson, Danzeisen, and Vouk (FIRST ROW); Evenson, Futch, Baird, Mjoen, Larsen (SECOND ROW); and Wiertzema, Hunter, and Loeck (THIRD ROW).
