

College Honors Its Athletes

Next to good competition athletes like to eat. Hence, the fall and spring banquets held each year at the close of the sports merry-go-round. Trophies and letters are dispensed to eligibles on the intercollegiate teams and to willing cheerleaders who have sacrificed their voices on the altar of god, Sport. The Intercollegiate Athletic Committee acts as organizer and host to both affairs.

The male chorus, directed by Mrs. Allen Croone, sang.

Vinson Leslie gave the response from the athletes.
