

The Valiant Few

UMC's two student publications, the Commentator and the Trojan, suffer from the same malady, lack of staff. Despite this recurring ailment, both manage to publish regularly through the overtime labor of the dedicated few. The Commentator is the college's bi-weekly newspaper, edited this year by Vicki Melbye and Jerry Jacobson, with Ralph Currier as business manager. Mary Jo Coauette had taken on the responsibility of the Trojan yearbook, aided by Joan Kelzenberg, assistant, and George Orlovich and David Gee, advertising. Bill Warner has been student photographer and Mrs. Dorothy McCulla, adviser, for both.

Vicki and Jerry, editors, examine the paper — for mistakes?
