

Campus Government Involves Many

Students in government this year advanced proposals for the good of UMC and its students. An example of their influence is evident in the increased depth as well as breadth of campus entertainment.

