

Horsemasters, judging teams, skydiving,

UMC's newest organization, the Transculture Club, was formed to encourage interest in the customs of other countries. ABOVE members practice a Greek folk dance.

Claudia Soderstrom, Horsemasters president, presented the flag during the organizations first horse show.

A variety of interests call for a variety of organizations.

UMC horsemasters held their first show this spring with a good turnout and successful competition.

The livestock and crops judging teams participated in national judging competition. Both teams made impressive placing in several areas of competition.

"Are you crazy? Try skydiving!" Motivated by this challenge, UMC organized its first parachuting club this spring.

HSMA (hotel, Sales and Management Association) members are involved in advertising, marketing, banquet and convention sales in the hospitality industry.

Meeting to plan their horse show are Rae Ann Bartz, Lyle Wick, Linda Houkom, Patty Halfman, advisor Josie Bartlett, Lori Butzin and President Claudia Soderstrom.
