

The quantity food preparation class provided one meal a week during winter quarter. The cooks are Studer, Pearson, Parkin, Andree, Empanger, Larson, Sherwin.

Among the Trojan Inn Coffee House entertains during the winter were the James Lee Stanley group.

There were no leaves on the trees and the snow still sat in drab heaps around the concrete that is the court, but these sturdy northerners hauled out their rackets.

Another sign or two of spring: groups following a winding course around puddles, mud or water, enroute to and from classes and dorms. And Marilyn Hendrickson harnessing up Royal Careless Kisses for a canter in the countryside or on the campus.
