

Music Comes Alive With New Director

UMC's music director during 1979-80 was Amy Krinick who is originally from Connecticut. She was born in New York and attended the Eastman School of Music in Rochester. She received her degree from the University of Illinois. Ms. Krinick especially likes the music performed by chamber groups. She started this type of music at UMC this past year, going by the name of Madrigal Chamber Singers. She is unsure of her future plans except that she would like to continue teaching at the college level.
