

Commencement took place at 2 p.m. on the campus mall.

Featured speaker was Thrainn H. Kristjansson, a UMC alumnus from the Class of 1972. A graduate of the division of hotel, restaurant and institutional management, Kristjansson now owns and manages several restaurants in major cities of western Canada.

Also included on the program were Regent William Dosland, Provost Stanley Sahlstrom, and Dr. Donald Sargeant. David Ekman, spoke on behalf of the Class of 1981. Tom Feiro ('75) offered congratulatory remarks as 1980-81 president of the UMC Alumni Association. The invocation was delivered by The Rev. Tom Latterell, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Crookston, and the benediction by Brent Jacobson, director of the UMC Campus Ministry program. Musical interludes throughout the ceremonies were presented by the UMC Chorale, under the direction of George French.

A reception followed the recessional at the College's new food service building.
