A well run athletic program is an instructional tool to teach cooperation, leadership, and the desire to excel. Athletics gives the student an opportunity to further develop his or her skills at the intercollegiate level. UMC athletes are encouraged to apply the same level of commitment and skill they experienced in sports to everything they do, including their academic studies.

We at UMC believe that athletics, as well as other student activities, assist our students in acquiring the knowledge and skill necessary not only for successful employment, but for successful living as well.
