

UMC Graduates Largest Class

The largest graduating class in the history of the University of Minnesota Technical College at Crookston was expected at spring quarter Commencement exercises on Friday, May 21, 1982.

Graduation ceremonies unfolded on the campus mall at 2 p.m. where Provost Sahlstrom conferred applied science degrees on second-year students who were introduced individually by their respective division chairpersons.

A reception followed the exercises in the food service building.

