The all-college advisory committee at the University of Minnesota Crookston is comprised of leaders in the fields where UMC graduates will be employed.

"Each member provides a direct link with the community that makes up employees of graduates from each of the college's divisions," said Dr. Stanley Sahlstrom, provost.

"Each member provides valuable guidance to the college in areas of curriculum, recruitment, placement, and public relations" added Sahlstrom.

Dr. Harvey Peterson, asst. professor of animal science received the Distinguished Teaching Award at the annual UMC Faculty-Staff Recognition Banquet.

The Distinguished Teaching Award was initiated this year in recognition of teaching effectiveness, student development, and educational leadership.

Peterson was recognized for his commitment to education. Since he joined the UMC faculty in 1978 he has made substantial changes in eight of the courses for which he is responsible. He has produced 13 sets of slides to aid in his teaching and has another 6 in preparation. He has prepared a laboratory manual for one of his courses and is working on two other manuals. Together with his students he has been studying the nutritional value of pelletized grain screenings.

He is the advisor for 15 students, several of whom wrote letters recommending he be selected for the Distinguished Teaching Award.

"As an instructor (Mr. Peterson) would get the point across at your level. If you were having problems with a class, he made it easy and comfortable for you to talk to him about it," commented one student.

Another student wrote, "He made you think. He started the thought process so you wanted to find out more . . . Actually he did not make you learn, he made you want to learn."

Peterson received his B.S. degree from North Dakota State University in 1967; M.S. in 1970 from Montana State University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska in 1972.
